

Existing System

Current Limitation

Many existing flood monitoring systems depend on manual observation and delayed updates.

- This can slow down action when the situation changes quickly.

Brief Explanation

The proposed application improves this by automating prediction and presenting visual alerts through a dashboard.

- It allows users to act faster and monitor conditions more systematically.