

Proposed System

System Concept

The proposed system collects relevant environmental features and predicts future flood risk through AI.

- The app also stores historical predictions for analysis and reporting.

Brief Explanation

Users can log in, review metrics, run predictions, and receive visual alerts through the interface.

- Admin users can manage records and monitor system activity.